GED CONNECTION
Repeats Year 'Round

Welcome to the GED Connection program! GED stands for General Educational Development. The GED Connection series is provided by Louisiana Public Broadcasting (LPB), underwritten by a grant from the Division of Family, Career and Technical Education/Adult Literacy Services in the Louisiana Department of Education. By preparing for and passing the GED test, adults 17 and older can earn a high school equivalency diploma. Workbooks have been developed specifically for the GED Connection series and are available from LPB as a supplement to the TV programs. While you are not required to purchase these workbooks, our GED students who have actively participated in the programs by doing the exercises in the workbooks feel they improved their learning.
